-metal plate logo: metal plate is attached to the hanger by screws. The logo is engraved on the metal plate. This method is suitable for logos that are not too large and do not require painting.

-printing logo: the logo is printed directly on the hanger material. This method is suitable for logos that are large and require painting. However, the logo may fade over time.

-engrave logo(no painting): the logo is engraved directly into the hanger material. This method is suitable for logos that are not too large and do not require painting. However, the logo may be difficult to read if the hanger material is too dark or textured.

-engrave logo(painting): the logo is engraved into the hanger material and then painted. This method is suitable for logos that are large and require painting. However, the logo may be difficult to read if the hanger material is too dark or textured.
